

Master of Arts in Teaching in Secondary Education (GL13)

The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) and Non-Degree Teacher Licensure Programs (NDTLP) in Secondary Education have been designed for students who wish to obtain initial teacher licensure as part of a Master's Degree, or licensure only. Candidates will enter the program as part of a cohort (in one of four areas: Language Arts, Social Science (History), Mathematics, or Science (Biology, Chemistry, Physics, or Earth Science), and have the opportunity to both work collaboratively with candidates in other disciplines and intensively with those in their own discipline. Candidates will be eligible to apply for licensure following their third semester of full-time coursework, and have the option of completing their MAT as either full- or part-time students. Candidates who opt for the NDTLP will finish with licensure, but no degree.

The 32.5 credit NDTLP and 35.5 credit MAT program have three components of coursework:

- A professional core in the area of educational foundations, curriculum and instruction, adolescent development, and literacy and language (15 credit hours, including 20 hours of community-based experiences).
- A content-specific curriculum and pedagogy sequence (7 credit hours, including 80 hours of clinical experiences).
- Student teaching plus seminar (9 credit hours, including a 16 week, full-time student teaching internship and a reflective seminar. Per Illinois State Board of Education Policy, candidates will also complete and submit their teacher performance assessment during their student teaching semester).

MAT students also complete an elective course, including options such as teaching English as a Second Language, Bilingual/Bicultural Education, Educational Foundations, Multicultural Education, Special Education, Middle Level education, and graduate-level content areas courses (3 credit hours).

MAT and NDTLP candidates will be eligible for their initial Professional Educators License (PEL) and endorsement after successfully completing their student teaching internship and state licensure requirements. MAT candidates will earn their degree after completing all 35.5 graduate credits. Some candidates may be eligible for course waivers or additional endorsements based upon their prior content-area, undergraduate, or elective coursework; program advisors will work with candidates to determine whether they qualify for any of these options.

Admission Requirements

- Bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited university as documented by submission of official transcripts, with undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or greater on a 4-point scale
- Undergraduate major in subject area of desired endorsement OR equivalent coursework to meet ISBE requirements for desired endorsement area. (Candidates who require no more than 2 additional content-area courses may be conditionally admitted but must fulfill their content-area requirements prior to student teaching)
- Admission to the College of Graduate Studies and Research (CGSR)
- 1-2 page statement detailing reasons for applying to the program in their desired content area
- 15-30 minute personal interview

Retention Requirements

- Program GPA of 3.0, with no more than 6 credits of "C" grades, and no grades lower than "C"
- Successful completion of content deficiencies
- Grade of "B" or "A" for pre-student teaching clinical experience, prior to student teaching
- Satisfactory progress toward program completion, as defined by the College of Graduate Studies and Research
- Satisfactory review from faculty disposition assessments

Program Completion/Licensure Requirements (NDTLP and MAT)

- Successful completion of all coursework with GPA of 3.0 or better
- Grade of "B" or "A" for student teaching internship
- Passing score on Illinois State Content Exam

MAT Only Completion Requirements

- Successful completion one graduate elective course
- Satisfactory final review from faculty disposition assessment

Criminal Background Check

Candidates are required to complete a criminal background check prior to school placement for clinicals and student teaching. More information can be obtained from the CEST Office.
